The Process

Three steps. Personal contact at every stage.

Step 1

Select approximately 9 Forbes network members

Handpicked Forbes Global Properties advisors across various regions including the US, Middle East, Scandinavia, Germany/Switzerland, UK, and others. Selection made in consultation with Forbes Global Properties management, leveraging their relationships with network members alongside internal research and existing buyer data.

Step 2

Bring them to Thanda

Three groups of three members will visit Thanda across three months to experience the product.

Step 3

Members engage their networks

Each activated member engages their network through various channels. We would like five qualified prospects from each member. All prospects will already be qualified through the network members, with an additional qualification and engagement process managed by Keegan. Keegan facilitates all introductions and manages the process between the international advisor, client, and Pierre.
